

Date: Mon, 5 Dec 2005 09:08:33 -0800 (PST)
From: "Karen Dudnikov" <tabberone@yahoo.com>
Subject: Re: "no one has accused you of being an infringer" - reply
To: SevenartsLtd@aol.com

You must be kidding. Your agent swore under penalty of perjury that I had infringed upon your copyright by offering this fabric for sale.

The notice of claimed infringement filed with ebay very plainly states that I had committed copyright infringement. In addition had there been bids on this fabric in question ebay would have emailed the bidders telling them that the auction was terminated because I had committed copyright infringement.

You don't seem to understand the consequences of your agents actions. eBay keeps score and a repeat offender can be suspended by eBay whenever eBay feels like it.

That is why the removal of the black mark is very important.

I've asked nicely and you keep telling me it's not your problem.

It was your agent acting on your orders that created this problem. As I said to them and to you a simple communication prior to publicly accusing me of infringement could have avoided all of this.

Karen

--- SevenartsLtd@aol.com wrote:

> Dear Karen
>
> No one has accused you of being an infringer. You > and several other people > have innocently bought fabric which makes > unauthorised use of Erte designs. .
> If you have a complaint then I suggest you direct > this to King Features > Syndicate Inc, who were responsible for the > manufacture. I understand that it was > first printed in 2001 and we have had this removed > from auction whenever it > has been discovered.
>
> I note from our correspondence that we first tried > to contact you in 2003. A > copy of my letter is attached for your information.
> This letter sets out our > position and I do not propose to write further on > the subject.
>
> Ray
>
>
>